Ernest P. Bicknell, Expert For
The Red Cross In Relief Work

ERNEST P. BICKNELL has reduced suffering to a science. It's his business. As national director of the Red Cross society he knows as much about the exact statistics as well as the more humane side of great calamities, such as the San Francisco earthquake, the Omaha cyclone disaster and the floods of the middle west, than any other one person. For the purpose of relief he reduces suffering to its simplest denomination. Then he acts. Recently Mr. Bicknell personally was on the ground in Ohio after Dayton, Columbus and other places there were inundated, and he organized the relief work in co-operation with the state authorities.

King Alfonso Describes the Attempt On His Life.

Madrid, April 15.—King Alfonso in describing the attempt on his life said in an interview: "I saw a man coming towards me with a revolver. He fired as I rode at him. When I was quite close to him he tried to seize the reins of my horse and fired a second time. The flash singed my glove and the bullet grazed the horse. I wheeled the horse, which knocked the man over with his shoulder just as a policeman sprang on him. He fired the third shot while he was on the ground and it whistled over my head."

Convicts in Jeffersonville, Ind., prison were banqueting by citizens of the town for their heroic work in checking the flood waters of the Ohio river during the recent flood.

UNDERWOOD ILL

Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee refuses to quit active work on the proposed tariff bill now being considered.

Washington, April 15.—Representative Underwood, of Alabama, chairman of the House Ways and Means committee and Democratic leader, was confined to his bed yesterday as the result of an attack of acute indigestion.

His condition was only slightly improved last night, but he announced over the protest of his physician that he would be at the Capitol as usual today.

Mr. Underwood had not been well for several days due, it is believed, to overtaxing his strength in his work on the tariff measure. Yesterday he put in a strenuous day in the Democratic caucus, working until after 6 o'clock.

He went to bed thoroughly exhausted, and early this morning he suffered the attack of acute indigestion. He was very ill for a time, but rallied before the family could get a physician. Later his physician ordered him not to leave his bed today and put him on liquid diet.

Mr. Underwood slept most of the day and felt much refreshed tonight. No fear is felt for his prompt recovery, but it is said he is very much in need of complete rest.

PROBABLE EFFECTS OF THE PROPOSED TARIFF LEGISLATION ARE DISCUSSED

CLUSTER OF BILLS OFFERED IN ONE MEASURE

TAX PROPOSALS TO GO TO PEOPLE

Three important Measures Put In One Resolution.

WILL ATTRACT ALL CLASSES

State Administration Behind the Proposals and They Are Scheduled For Adoption by Both Houses of the Ohio Legislature — General Appropriation Bill, Carrying Nearly Seven Millions, Passes the Senate.

Columbus, O., April 15.—Three proposals, embraced in a single resolution, amendatory of the constitution, were sprung on the legislature as the taxation program of the Cox administration.

Classification of property for taxation in place of the ironclad uniform rule; jumping the tax limit from 10 to 15 mills, exclusive of sinking fund and interest levies, but making that limit permanent so far as real estate is concerned; and exempting public bonds from taxation, were the three proposals.

The three desired changes in the basic tax law, Article 12 of the constitution, were incorporated in a single resolution so as to command the support of all those who favor any one of them. Each will attract the votes of distinct elements.

Single taxpayers who fought for the Bernstein resolution for home rule in taxation, are for classification of property for taxation, just as are holders of bonds and stocks, who think intangible property should be taxed at a different rate from tangible property. The support of owners of real estate is expected because of the proposal to anchor to the Smith law for all time by insertion of the ultimate tax rate on realty in the constitution.

Officials of the larger cities will be pleased over the raising of the possible limit to 15 mills, exclusive of levies for carrying and redeeming bond issues, and they and others interested in getting more money for big improvements in cities will no doubt support the proposal to insure a good market for bonds by restoring the former provision of the constitution exempting bonds of the state, its subdivisions and school bonds from taxation.

These three proposals were substituted by the house committee for the resolution of Senator Mooney, which, as adopted by the senate, merely exempted bonds from taxation.

Appropriation Bill Passed.
As a starter for the windup week of the legislature the senate passed the general appropriation bill, authorizing the expenditure of $5,830,000 for maintaining the state government, during

WILSON SIZES UP THE TARIFF BILL

Says No Trade Depression Should Follow Its Enactment.

BOON TO HEALTHY BUSINESS

Does Not Expect That Revision Will Immediately Result in a General Reduction of Cost of Living—Believes Passage of Bill Will Bring About a Situation From Which Desired Reductions Eventually Will Result.

Washington, April 15.—President Wilson's views on the probable effects of the enactment of the pending tariff bill have been obtained for the first time. The president does not expect that the revision will immediately result in a general reduction of the cost of living.

In making his position known Mr. Wilson reminded his visitors that he had been careful to say in the campaign that he did not expect the new tariff law to effect immediately the reduction of the cost of living, but that what he did confidently expect was that it would bring about a situation from which the desired price reductions eventually will result. The president attributes the existing high cost of living chiefly to an artificial situation in which prices are kept up by arrangement among producers and corporations dealing in the necessities of life. He considers that these arrangements will become impossible when a truly competitive situation is created by the Underwood-Simmons bill.

The benefit from the sugar schedule he thinks should result very promptly, for the reason that the competitive elements in the sugar trade, as he is informed, are already prepared to contest with one another.

The president has received many confidential reports from his friends with regard to the attitude of the public toward the bill now before the house. From these he is confident that the house measure is considered a "fair bill," and he has been encouraged into believing that its reception has been very much better than might have been anticipated.

Personally the president can see no reason why any business depression should follow the passage of the pending bill. He feels convinced that any healthy business should be able to continue without interruption, for he does not believe there is a single schedule in the bill where healthy business has been cut "to the bone." Mr. Wilson is not seriously alarmed by the criticisms which have been made of the bill by affected interests, however legitimate their interests in the reduced rates may be. He does not believe that a single cut provided for in the pending measure is ruinous for the industry involved.

The president does not expect the sugar schedule from this generalization upon the bill. He has investigated the claim of the Ohio Democratic representatives that removal of the duty on wool will be ruinous to the woolen industry, but has concluded from the fact that the price of wool is the same in this country and abroad that the contention is not well founded. The same opinion on Mr. Wilson's part extends to the sugar industry. He believes all sugar factories can operate under a free sugar law.

CITY VERSUS COUNTRY

Agricultural Schedule Dissected by the Democratic Caucus.

Washington, April 15.—City was arrayed against country when the Democratic members of the house in caucus resumed consideration of the Underwood tariff bill.

"The fellows from the city," as they were characterized by Representative Shackelford of Missouri, turned their backs on the agricultural schedule, which imposes small protective rates on nearly all the products of the farm. The city members expressed the belief that in order to help the "market basket" all farm and food products should be put on the free list. They declare that as an evidence of good

GENERAL CONDITION THE SAME

Official Announcement From the Vatican Declares That Improvement in the Bronchial Symptoms Continues. Skepticism Noted in Regard to the Bulletins of the Physicians — Foreign Cardinals Arriving at Rome.

Rome, April 15.—The pope's condition, according to late bulletins issued from the vatican, remains unchanged. His temperature is steady and it is stated that it is not likely to increase as the measures to allay the fever have been efficient.

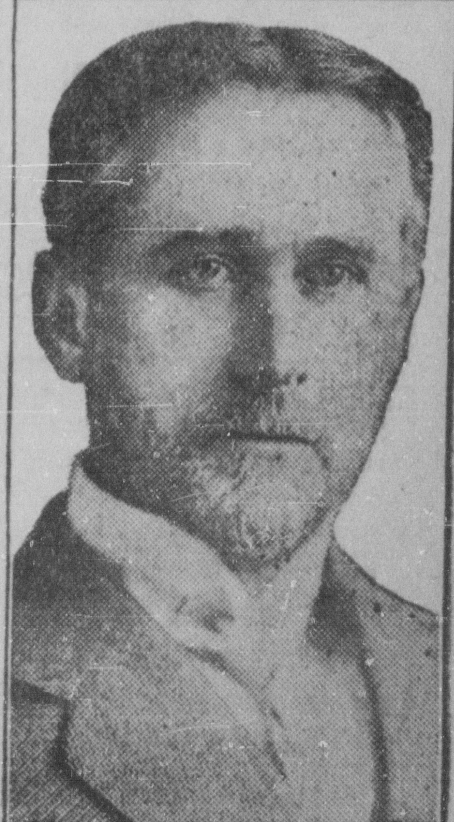

Cardinal Kopp of Breslau is present and it is likely that some other foreign cardinals will soon arrive, as they probably expect their presence will be needed at a conclave to elect a successor to Pius X.

Skepticism in regard to the official statements continues. It is believed the pope's illness is not following a favorable course. The patient suffers from suffocating paroxysms of what are called bronchial asthma, to allay which antiseptic inhalations are frequently used.

The official announcement that improvement in the bronchial symptoms continues is based on a decrease in the unfavorable sounds in the stethoscope. The abatement of the fever

Shoots and Kills His Four

Fitchburg, Mass., April 15.—Ernest Moschner, 35, proprietor of a bakery here, killed his four children and himself at their home. The wife and mother discovered the fearful tragedy on her return from a visit to some neighbors.

Moschner was a German and had lived here for 26 years. About a year ago he developed tuberculosis and went to the state open-air hospital at Rutland, returning about six weeks ago, his case being pronounced hopeless. Since then he has been despondent.

Calling the children from the street where they were playing to a bedroom on the second floor of the house, Moschner shot the oldest, Elsie, who was 12 years old, behind the left ear. The other three little ones ran, pursued by their insane parent. Ernest, 6, the youngest, sought refuge in the closet of an adjoining room. The boy was killed by a bullet in the head. Myrtle, 11, ran down stairs and hid in a bedroom closet, but her father found her and one shot killed her instantly. Norman, 8, fled to the cellar, where he was discovered and shot in the head.

Moschner covered the bodies with blankets and, returning to the room where he first began shooting, put a bullet into his own head, dying instantly.

Gentch May Not Land.

Washington, April 15.—A new angle was given to the campaign which has been waged in behalf of Dr. Gentch of New Philadelphia, O., for the appointment as commissioner of pensions, when it was stated that the so-called original Wilson men in Ohio, or anti-Harmon element, are fighting Dr. Gentch. This, it is claimed, is the real reason Dr. Gentch will not receive the appointment.

EVERYTHING FAVORS HORSE SHOW TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Two Afternoon and Two Night Performances Will Be Held and Large Number of Seats Have Already Been Taken. Exhibitions of Skill With Rope Spinning Will Be One of Many Features.

Brighter weather has smiled on us and one of the many things that shows its effect is the Horse Show to be held next Monday and Tuesday afternoon and evenings.

It was found desirable to increase the number of performances to four to allow a more elaborate program to be put on and a number of special attractions will be found interspersed with the regular numbers.

At the first show held several years ago, a potato race contested by men mounted on ponies was a very popular number and at the suggestion of several this will be repeated.

The rope spinning will be an example of combined skill of horsemanship and roping, one feature being a standing rider mounted on two horses known as a Roman rider spinning a rope surrounding the horses when at full speed.

The regular classes showing the horses of different ages and uses will be interesting to all and be a show of much quality.

The music will be one of the best features of the entertainment, one that will entertain both young and old, the educated musician and the lover of harmony.

The seat sale, as originally made for Monday afternoon and evening has had but few cancellations and guarantees a full attendance. Practically all the choice seats are under contract. There remains a number of boxes and some choice seats for the second performance and now that the weather promises to be favorable a full attendance is anticipated on both days.

Mr. Chas. Allen, of the committee, has received a number of orders for seats from distant cities, including one this morning from Cincinnati.

Justice Unites New Hollanders

Fred Woods, 26, laborer, of New Holland, and Myrtle McMorro, 29, also of the West Holland neighborhood, appeared at the probate judge's office Tuesday morning, secured a license and were united in marriage by Justice T. N. Craig.

In signing his name to the marriage record Woods did not forget to attach the prefix—"Mister", and was kind enough to sign the name of his bride, whom he explained, could not write. As customary in such cases she was required to make her mark.

The groom was very anxious to have the words said and return to New Holland on the next train. He wore the "conventional" rubber boots and sweater. Woods appeared for the license Monday, but was not aware that the presence of the bride-to-be was necessary before the permit could be issued.

OPEN AIR CONCERTS FOR COMING SUMMER NOW SEEM ASSURED

News That Prominent Men Will Work for Band Concerts, and That Washington Band Is Now Stronger Than Ever, Will Be Pleasing to Washington Citizens Who Love Good Music. Reorganization of Band Made at Rehearsal Last Night.

Present indications are that Washington citizens, and the citizens of the surrounding community will have the opportunity of attending open-air band concerts in this city during the summer months, and once more enjoy the pleasure such occasions always bring.

At a rehearsal of the Washington band Monday night a reorganization was also made, and plans discussed for open air concerts and increasing the present strength of the splendid corps of musicians.

In the re-organization James H. Whelpley, whose fame as a talented musician is by no means confined to local circles, was again unanimously chosen director and business manager of the organization. Chas. Johnson was chosen president; Odd F. Ott, secretary, and Wheeler Bay, treasurer, the four men constituting the Board of Directors of the band.

With constant rehearsal and incessant work the band, which last year rendered pleasing music, shows still greater improvement, and is an organization of which the city may well feel proud. Their initial performance this spring is expected to surprise and delight all who attend.

It has come to light that a number of prominent men are now behind the Washington band, and will assist in the raising of funds sufficient to defray the expenses of a series of open air concerts, and plans are now being made to that end, and before many weeks the first concert is expected to be given, and once more Washington will enter upon an era of good musical entertainment furnished by an organization which is unquestionably entitled to the staunch support of Washington citizens as a whole.

At the present time the Washington band is composed of an even score of members, including a great deal of genuine talent, and it is planned to secure two or three other good musicians to complete the full quota of instruments.

It will be pleasing news to Washington citizens to learn that the ever popular band concerts are virtually assured.

Mrs. Pankhurst's "Victory."

Mrs. Pankhurst has "won her hunger strike" the London news reports say.

As a result of her refusal to take food while the British government kept her incarcerated in prison a punishment inflicted upon the noted suffragette leader, the great government of the English people was compelled to or at least did, abjectly surrender.

True, Mrs. Pankhurst has not been unconditionally pardoned. True there is a string attached to her release in the shape of a proviso that as soon as she regains her health which, specialists say, has been seriously affected by her refusal to accept nourishment, she is to be returned to prison and serve out the remainder of her three-year sentence.

But if Mrs. Pankhurst can compel the British government to release her from prison by refusing to take food, can she not do the same thing again when she is returned to prison?

Or can she not compel that same government, by continuing her fast to make her pardon absolute instead of conditional?

The suffrage for women problem in Great Britain may have been, in the early stages of the agitation, a joke, but that it has now passed that state and has become a serious menace admits of no denial.

No matter whether they oppose or favor suffrage for women, all thinking men must acknowledge that the nations, Great Britain especially, are face to face with a problem, and the release of Mrs. Pankhurst shows that Great Britain is at sea about dealing with it.

If Mrs. Pankhurst, because she is a woman, can escape the consequences of conviction of one of the most dangerous and far-reaching crimes known to civilized nations—inciting a riot—by refusing to eat, when women are denied suffrage would the same method be equally effective if the right of suffrage was bestowed on women?

One thing is certain, no man could have secured release from a British prison, even upon conviction of a far less crime than that of which Mrs. Pankhurst was convicted, by any such means.

The announced cause of the commission of crime by Mrs. Pankhurst, her conviction, incarceration in prison and release together with the cause for the release, indicate quite clearly that the British government and the English men place women on a higher, not a lower plane, than that one which would entitle them to vote.

Mrs. Pankhurst's release from prison and the cause are strong proof that the estimate now held by the law-making power must be lowered ere the right to vote is bestowed.

It also proves that when that high estimate is lowered that women will take with their added authority a responsibility for their acts which will bar any release from prison sentences on any such grounds as brought about Mrs. Pankhurst's "victory" over the government.

The world renowned British suffrage advocate has won a victory in form, because a generous government dealt with her as a woman.

In this feature of the "triumph" it is very questionable if there is not present the element of defeat because the British government seems still unconvinced that Mrs. Pankhurst should be held to the same strict accounting as man.

One thing is certain, and that is that the British government has not yet learned how to deal with a very serious condition of affairs. Whether the cause of suffrage is advanced or not by the militant British women is debatable, but that they have brought about a public demonstration of governmental inefficiency is quite certain.

Medicine Not Advancing; It Is Standing Still

By Dr. ANTHONY BASSLER,
Medical Instructor of New York

MEDICINE is making a flashy progress here and there, but the rank and file of the men are standing still. The causes for this are many:

The warped organizations that some have reared for their own benefit, utilizing a definite specialty that its leader may have to supply.

TOO MUCH SUBTLE ADVERTISING in and out of the profession on the part of some for their own benefit rather than for that of the art of medicine.

TOO MANY HOSPITALS AND CLINICS with inferior men in them in high positions and not enough co-operation on a case between them.

TOO MUCH ENTHUSIASM on the part of some and NOT ENOUGH on that of others.

TOO MANY UNFAIR LAWS AND NOT ENOUGH GOOD ONES. No health bureau at Washington.

NOT ENOUGH PURE BROTHERLY LOVE between us, since this always makes for our own and the patient's benefit.

Poetry For Today

VAMPIRES THREE.

Wind speaks:

I speed the sailor and whirl the mills
And make a harp of the tree;
I wait the showers that bring the flowers
To dapple each dale and lea.
But woe! the ways that in hunger
I choose
To blast with my awful breath,
For I shatter and wreck and naught may check
My terrible dance of death.

Water speaks:

I bear the vessels and turn the wheels
And give the desert the rose;
I ripple in rills and leap down the hills
Or lie in glassy repose.
Though I do man's best without spoil or need
Cooped up in river or lake,
When I surge in wrath from my wounded path
Wild ruin I leave in my wake.

Fire speaks:

I am vassal of man and I do as I will
In many a wondrous way.
If he chain me sure I am fain to endure
His mastery night and day,
But should I escape from my dungeon
red
By charring bolts and bars,
I chasten my master with hell's disaster
And flaunt my head to the stars.

All three speak:

Aye, puppets are we of the tyrant man
So long as our passions slumber;
But woe to the day that we make him
our prey—
Ah, who may our victims number!
For harpies relentless we mangle and tear
Our puny lord and his city,
Then mock at his moans and jeer at his groans,
Devoid of mercy and pity.

WILSON A REAL FAN

President in Action at the Washington Baseball Game.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

The president opened the American league season in Washington by throwing the first ball from the grand stand in the game between the Senators and Yankees. This picture was taken as he smiled at a play. There is no doubt the new president is a real fan.

President And Premier Talk to D. A. R. In Session

WILSON AND BRYAN SPEAK

Make Pat Talks to Daughters of the American Revolution.

Washington, April 15.—In a short address, President Wilson welcomed the Daughters of the American Revolution to Washington. He said: "We cut links with the past in that struggle (1776) which we hope will never be forged again. We cut the links that bound us to every system of privilege that had existed, and anybody who stands for privilege of any exclusive sort forfeits the title of Americanism. It is a stern doctrine; it is a doctrine at which some people wince, particularly those who think the distinction will be drawn in their favor, but it is the only standard of gentility in America, that all men and women are equally gentle who are equally devoted to the interests of mankind."

The president was followed by Secretary Bryan. Mr. Bryan referred to the American revolution of 1776 as the precursor of the present-day revolutionists against special privilege, and he was roundly applauded.

Tigers Ready For First Game

The Tiger baseball team has been organized for the fourth successive year and a meeting will be held at the home of William Lubbers, manager, next Thursday evening. The Tigers will open the season next Sunday at Washington C. H., where they will meet the Athletic club of that city.

Although weakened by the loss of Peake and Standish, two of last year's stars, the members of the team expect to make a good record this year. Pitcher Standish will leave within a week for a tryout with the Manistee, Mich., team and Peake is now trying for a place on the Harvesters.

The following players have been signed and are urged to be present at the Meeting Thursday night: Geo. Ogg, Thomas Carroll, James Swords, Addie Nicklas, Cleve Temple, Harry Johns, Scott Holcomb, Thomas O'Connor, August Remmetter, Stanley Wiegell, Herman Raster and Steve Donahue.—Springfield Sun.

Cluster of Bills Offered In Measure

1913, appointed a steering committee to see that administration bills are safely landed before the final getaway is made, passed the Fellingner election bills, reconsidered and passed the Greenlund bill providing for the Torrens system of registering land titles.

While the appropriation bill was considerably mangled by the senate finance committee before it was presented for passage, its total was only $16,380 below that recommended by the house. The house had passed the measure before the recent floods. To strengthen the levees at St. Mary's reservoir an appropriation of $37,000 was made. To replace the bridge at the Girls' Industrial home near Delaware $20,000 was inserted. Buckeye Lake will be compelled to do without many improvements by reason of the floods. An appropriation of $33,000 which had been sanctioned by the house was cut $13,500.

The house had set the figures for maintenance of the National Guard at $240,000, but the senate raised the amount to $300,000. This was done, however, by cutting $60,000 from the appropriation for armories. The amount left for armories is $101,712.10.

Flood Legislation.

Flood legislation is under way in the house. The Snyder bill is slated for enactment. It gives assessors power to reduce the tax valuation of buildings and land damaged by floods. The house immediately passed the bill introduced by Representative Shanley of Portage, for presentation to every officer and enlisted man of the National Guard who served during the flood a service ribbon. Mr. Chapman of Montgomery came forward with a flood relief bill for saloonkeepers. It provides for refund of the Alken saloon tax for the period during which saloons were closed by military or civil order. Representative Frick of Scioto fathered a bill for the relief of Portsmouth. It seeks to appropriate $300,000 to put the Scioto river back in the channel from which it was diverted by the state in 1835, when the canal was built.

Wise ones predict that the Green anti-screen bill will be smothered by the steering committees, whose personnel the governor had selected, and the conferring upon these committees absolute selection of the bills which are to be brought to a vote.

The house killed the Read bill to pay members and clerks of boards of elections extra for their work on the day of the constitutional amendments election last September.

One Killed 3 Wounded In Shooting Near Athens

Athens, Ohio, April 15.—At Chauncey six miles north of here four men were shot last evening. One was killed and two others will probably die.

According to reports a man named Hilt was driving along the road with an unidentified companion and made an insulting remark to Ed Nash, who was talking to a woman by the roadside. Nash immediately opened fire.

Marshal Clem Howard and his Deputy, William Hicks, were summoned from Chauncey, about a mile away, and found Nash in a bridge. A duel ensued, in which Nash was killed, Howard shot in the abdomen and Hicks below the heart. Hilt received a flesh wound in the head.

Had Close Call In Omaha Storm

Word has been received in this city that Milton Barrere, son of Milton Barrere, who is located at Omaha, Neb., where he is a telegrapher in the regular army, had a very close call from death in the terrible tornado which swept that city on Easter Sunday, wrecking the town and killing scores of persons.

Mr. Barrere, who is quartered at the fort at Omaha, started down town just before the storm, but was called back to the fort for some reason, and the auto in which he had intended going proceeded on its journey and was caught in the path of the storm, wrecked and most of the occupants killed outright.

Changes Plea To One of Guilty

Ed Suttles, the 20-year-old youth who was indicted for uttering a forged check on J. A. Bock, of the Mill-edgeville locality, and who Saturday entered a plea of not guilty to the charge, has changed his plea of not guilty to one of guilty as charged, and was given an indeterminate sentence in the Mansfield reformatory.

Suttles and Blaine Hurley will be escorted to the Mansfield Reformatory Wednesday, where they will commence the work of serving their sentences.

Suttles' offense was that of "raising" a check for a few dollars, and passing it in its altered form.

G. W. Early Is Reported Missing

Among the more than 100 persons reported missing since the Dayton flood, is G. W. Early, a former resident of this city, who lived on Notre Dame street, in Dayton, and whose family escaped.

So far no word has been heard from Mr. Early, and it is supposed that he is numbered among the flood victims. He has relatives living in this city, and during his residence here was employed by the Brownell Packing House and at the Washington Gas & Electric company's plant.

There are 1300 troops patrolling the city, and they will remain for some time yet.

A plan is on foot to erect a monument in honor of John H. Patterson for the great work he has performed.

Probable Effects of Proposed Tariff

With the Democratic party ought to try free trade in food products in an effort to reduce the cost of living. On the other hand, most of the members from the agricultural states complained bitterly that the rates of the schedule under consideration sacrificed the interests of the farmers.

Although the committee won out on every question brought into controversy, little progress was made on the agricultural schedule. Less than a page of it was considered.

One amendment was offered by Mr. Kinkead of New Jersey, providing that cattle should be put on the free list instead of carrying a rate of 10 per cent ad valorem as provided by the bill. This was defeated, 122 to 73.

Fears Are Yet Held For Pope

Is due to the medicine which has been given the patient to promote perspiration, but his respiration is still labored and rapid and the danger of the inflammation spreading to the ramifications of the bronchial tubes is still considerable.

The pope's weakness continues, and remains a serious feature. Stimulants and tonics have failed to counteract his debility. This causes pitiable depression and uncontrollable fits of weeping.

SYLVESTER SLAB DRY;
POPE WILL RECOVER.

Rome, April 15.—Many of the faithful who are confident Pope Plus X will recover, base their belief on the fact that the tombstone of Pope Sylvester II, in the basilica of St. John of Lateran, is still dry. The marble slab on the tomb, which bears a prophetic epitaph, is reputed to be always bedewed when a pope is dying. It is declared that this has never failed for 10 centuries to give a premonition of the death of the 116 pontiffs who have passed away in that period. The phenomenon occurred as usual on the day that Pope Leo XIII died. From that day to this it has been dry.

Postponed For Finish Of Grand Jury Session

PROBE PROMISED

Grand Jury to Investigate Alleged Misuse of State Funds.

Columbus, O., April 15.—After receiving the testimony of Colonel W. M. Foster, chairman of the loan of $190,000 made to him by the Columbus Savings and Trust company, and which is suspected of having come from the state treasury, the grand jury adjourned the hearing before Master Commissioner Okey to next Monday. A number of the state's witnesses will be called before the grand jury which will investigate the alleged juggling of state funds between the state treasury and officials of the Columbus Savings and Trust company.

Hagenback Dead.

Hamburg, April 15.—Carl Hagenback, the well-known dealer in and trainer of wild animals, is dead. He owned the famous zoological park at Stellingen, near this city.

Was Killed In Reprisal

Havana, April 15.—Jose Fernandez, known as "Chichi," the defeated Liberal candidate for mayor of Cienfuegos, was killed in a cafe in reprisal for the assassination of Senor Menendez, the Conservative mayor of that place. Special Policeman Eustaquio Ordonez, who was very fond of Mayor Menendez, did the killing. He is under arrest.

UNIVERSAL MANHOOD STRIKERS STILL HOLD THE PEACE

STRIKE NOT GENERAL

Two Hundred Thousand Number Estimated Out in Belgium.

Brussels, April 15.—The strike for universal manhood suffrage is progressing very peacefully. Up to the present writing the strike has been in no way universal. Both parties claim to be entirely satisfied with the situation. The Clerical newspapers say the strike has been a complete fiasco, while the Socialist organs say it is a magnificent triumph. Estimates as to the number of those on strike are very contradictory but perhaps 200,000 is near the mark. Brussels has been so little affected by the strike that it is difficult to believe that anything of the kind is on. All the public services are running as usual.

There have been a few isolated cases of minor mischief. Three machines in a leather factory here were damaged and some telegraph wires were cut in the south.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Policeman Kills Man.

Barberton, O., April 15.—John Knollmaier, 38, of Pittsburg, was shot and killed by Policeman George Franklin of Barberton. According to Chief Eby the shooting was done in self-defense. Franklin was sent to arrest Knollmaier on a charge of having assaulted Peter Mowler in a saloon. It is said Knollmaier pointed a revolver at the officer's head, but was shot through the heart before he could pull the trigger.

Wants Holy Rollers Fined.
Bellevue, O., April 15.—A resident of the vicinity where the Holy Rollers have their religious feasts asked the humane society to compel the organization to make less noise. He claims that on account of the racket made by the Rollers he could not hear his horse cough one night recently when it took the colic and as a result the animal died.

Clerk Dolan Reinstated.
Columbus, O., April 15.—Warden Jones reinstated William J. Dolan, chief clerk, whom he dismissed a few days ago for writing to the board of administration about the sale of some scrap iron from the prison of which no account was kept or no money returned to the state. Jones accused Dolan of disloyalty.

Engineer Killed by Beam.
Cleveland, O., April 15.—The breaking of a cable on a big derrick at the McMyler Interstate company's plant, at Bedford, allowed a heavy steel beam to fall, instantly killing Charles Pransue, engineer, and seriously injuring Walter Carse, a laborer.

To Equip Playground.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
